

Put Children First

put children first

Some do put children first, however ...

Worldwide, the numbers in slavery have never been higher now than at any other time in history ...

THOSE LITTLE ARMS ARE MEANT TO HOLD THE LIGHTWEIGHT OF PENCILS, NOT THIS HEAVY BURDEN

Not only is child abuse almost universal, worldwide sexual abuse of girls is around 70% – of that 70%, some 70% of sexual abuse is perpetrated by the girl's father and/or uncles!

There are thousands of complaints

The most heart touching picture

A kid protects his sister
during firing in Kashmir

After heartbreaking picture of four-year-old Syrian girl 'surrendering' to photographer, Red Cross worker shares image of SECOND youngster putting her hands up because she thought camera was gun.

The man who is crying is a doctor

While he was distributing bread to the war struck children in Syria, The child told him: "Could you give me a medicine so that I won't feel hungry again"?

The world can learn a lot from this photo. This child has nothing to eat, but when he was given two lollipops, he offered one to the photographer. This has got to be one of the most heart-warming photo I've ever seen.

Has nature more love for man, than man has for man?

When a toddler fell into a gorilla pit in 1996, he was saved this gorilla. In summer 1996, a rambunctious 3-year-old boy slipped away from his mother and squeezed through a barrier at the Brookfield Zoo in Illinois, plummeting more than 15 feet into a pit holding several gorillas. One of them scooped up the toddler, cradled him, and then carried him to paramedics.

Orangutan offers a helping hand – 11 February 2020

“Let me help you? Once humanity dies in mankind, sometimes animals are guiding us back to our basics,” Anil Prabhakar

Anil was in Samboja, East Kalimantan, on a tour in an orangutan facility managed by the Borneo Orangutan Survival Foundation (BOSF).

Humanity is presently embracing being mind-centric, thus, unknowingly generating all that brings about the social issues that dominate every society around the world. Only through our feelings, which are always in truth and love, will the malaise and zombiism of humanity abate and then, only then, will we begin to put children first. Each incremental step and advance we achieve in living feelings first, we as parents benefit our children. This benefit is then passed through to the following generation, and so on. Further, we are too long to understand and know the truth behind what our feelings are guiding us to consider. Slowly we will come to understand the truth of our feelings and what they are showing us.
